Attorney General Palmer
Warns Refiners

10c LB. A FAIR PRICE

Expect Large Supply Will Soon Be Placed on the Market.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Steps to prevent an abnormal increase in the price of sugar because of the existing shortage were taken today by the department of justice.

Attorney General Palmer notified beet sugar refiners, who have been withholding their products from the market until the price situation became more stabilized that the U. S. sugar equalization

The wholesalers and that the charge in excess of that amount would be regarded in violation of the food control act.

Refiners were asked to telegraph their concurrence in this price, which would mean that they would put their supply on the market immediately, thereby relieving the present stringency.

The price to the wholesaler heretofore has been 9 cents so tailers have been allowed to charge 11 cents a pound for controlled sugar under the old prices. While the department of justice and the sugar board did not state what the new retail price would be, it was assumed that the increase would not be greater than the wholesale advance.

BRITISH DELEGATES OUTLINE PLANS

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 20.—British financial delegates to the International Trade Conference, which opened here today, told their American conferees that they sought no special credit arrangements or government intervention but simply asked that business transactions go on as before.

This announcement came as a requests of many American financial interests for American financial aid. The delegates met and set forth that extension of credits was vitally necessary in order that they might successfully meet the reconstruction problems of their respective countries.

A. C. Bedford of New York, chairman for the executive committee of the committee told the delegates assembled in an informal general session that American business men were ready to supply financial aid to the war-stricken allies but made it plain that they must be frank in explaining political and economic conditions in their own countries.

The success and permanency of business, he said, is dependent upon the stability of government and American business men wanted to know whether the dangers of Bolshevism or Socialism have passed and whether any menace to the social order existed.

The fortieth birthday of the incandescent lamp falls on Tuesday (October 21). In celebration of the historic event, marking a complete transition in the lighting of the world, illuminating experts from throughout the United States will foregather in Chicago for a four-days meeting to recount the marvelous happenings

The burgomaster of Vienna is now appealing to the American people for aid for starving citizens of that "much tried city." He predicts much suffering the coming winter and adds "we have been rendered absolute beggars, a city of mendicants. There is nothing but despair facing us." They are certainly reaping as they sowed. Austria's rotten government precipitated the world wide conflict that entailed the hardships they are now complaining of.

There has been a large crop of "medals" disposed of since the great war broke loose, but of all none have been more worthily bestowed for meritorious conduct than that given Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army, by our government. The citation stated that Commander Booth had been tireless in her devotion to duty, and that "the contribution of the Salvation Army toward winning the war is conspicuous and the results obtained were due in large part to the great executive ability of its commander."

Selling methods of expert American business men are famous for developing amusement, along with mild surprise, yet not all of us realize how naturally the American salesman states all sorts of ideas in the vernacular of his profession, says the Monitor. Not long ago a so-called "live wire" salesman was forced to listen to a somewhat protracted explanation of the activities of the foreign element in American industry as contributing to the general unrest now evident in the country. The salesman visualized the whole situation in a flash. "I'll tell you what's the matter," he snapped. "The country's over-sold on Bolshevism. It's time for some of the native sons to get out and sell them the American ideal!"

MAINTAIN THE CONSTITUTION

Somewhat timely is the prayer made many years ago and Webster could not have put it plainer had he lived today.

You are prosperous, you are happy, you are grateful. The fire of liberty burns brightly in your hearts, while duty and the law restrain it from bursting forth in wild and destructive conflagration. Cherish liberty, as you love it, cherish its securities, as you wish to preserve it. Maintain the Constitution which we labored so painfully to establish and which has been to you such a source of inestimable blessings. Be true to God, to your country, to your race. Do your duty. Then shall that Almighty Power which so graciously protected us, and which now protects you, shower its everlasting blessings upon you and your posterity!—Daniel Webster.

WAY YOU CAN MARK BALLOT

It is necessary for many to get it clear in their minds at once how they may vote for constitutional convention delegates at the election of November 4. It is learned that many are away off on this proposition.

You can vote one vote for one man.

You can give one vote to each of two men. And that is as far as you can go. You can't vote 1-1-2 votes for each of two men; neither can you vote three for one man. And of course you can't give two votes to one man and one vote to another.

In this election the voting is not at all as it is in voting for candidates for the legislature.

This time the most you can give one man is one vote; the most you can give two men is one vote each. You can't distribute anything among three men.

STRAIGHT AMERICANISM

Straight Americanism spoke in the resolutions adopted by the American Legion at its state convention at Peoria Saturday. The men who wore the uniform know better than anyone else the menace of the slacker to the country. No wonder they flared up in indignation against the petting by the War Department of the men who would have broken down America if they had had their way and left the nation defenseless in the face of the enemy.

When the men of the American Legion were risking their lives for their country, Secretary Baker to use his own words, was "doing all that public opinion would stand for for these enemies of the government. When the men of the Legion were coming home to make a place for themselves in civil life with no aid from the government, Secretary Baker was remitting the sentence of the slackers, and discharging them with back pay and a new suit of clothes."

The secretary's treatment of these foes of the country has been an affront to the nation. It has been an especial affront to the men who fought to save it. Congress would do well to heed their call for an airing of the whole wretched business.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

Solution of problems before the National Industrial Conference seems more hopeless than ever after the conference committee failed to conciliate differences between employer and labor wings regarding the "bargaining" proposition, when the tentative agreement recently reached was amended by the employers group adding a clause declaring for the right of employers and employees to bargain individually, which was promptly rejected by labor delegates.

Speaking of the right of collective bargaining, one recalls a remark that has been made in one form and another for a long while: Any so-called right depends on the use that is made of it. Says the Decatur Review.

Only a short while since people of this country were much in favor of the right of collective bargaining, as the thing was stated and understood. Doubtless there remains pretty large support for that right, but this is by no means as keen as it was a short while ago.

This right can be firmly established, all depending on the use that is made of it. If it is used unwisely, you can be sure the right will begin to slip.

In this respect it is just like all other rights that have ever come to the front. For instance, you have a right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, but all the time it is something you must use judiciously. If this right is grossly abused it is lost.

Winter Coming.
The winter's approaching, the frost is encroaching, and turning green verdure to gold; the evenings are chilly and palm beach looks silly, and are you prepared for the cold? In pomp you go riding, your swift motor gliding. I often behold you go past; you surely seem stately; I envy you greatly—but are you prepared for the blast? Is coal in the cellar, oh, joy-riding feller, and have you some spuds in the bin, or are you just burning the coin you are earning, just blowing your salary in? Oh, Winter is mixing its warning and fixing to be as a jolt in the neck; the winds will be blowing, the rain will be snowing, and sleet will descend by the peck. From icy Alaska and far Athabasca the winds will come yammering down; they'll raise the old Harry, the snow they will carry and plaster it over the town. And are you preparing for winter in your cars, or are you still burning the coin you are earning for rubber and gas and cigars? Say, have you provided a ham that is lopsided, some bacon and wienies, and flour? And have you invested in coats double breasted? For winter is drastic and dour.

De Valera Will Be in Springfield Thursday

To the Editor of the Journal:

I wish to call the attention of the people of Jacksonville to the reception in Springfield on next Thursday, October 23rd to be accorded to Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish Republic. The American spirit of fair play and the American sympathy for submerged nationalities, expressed more than once in the past year, call for a demonstration that will show in no uncertain manner the attitude of the people of this country towards the Irish cause and its representatives. No adequate argument can be advanced to support the contention that Ireland should not have representative self-government, unless it be the argument of selfish interests, and every argument that has been advanced in the case of other submerged nationalities applies with tenfold force in the case of Ireland. On this occasion the claims of Ireland will be forcibly presented by DeValera and his associate speakers.

Jacksonville has been accorded eight members on the reception committee and should have a thoroughly representative delegation. A public luncheon will be given at the Leland Hotel at noon, and in the afternoon De Valera will make a short address at Lincoln's tomb. The principal meeting will be held at the State Arsenal, Second and Monroe, at eight o'clock in the evening. At this meeting addresses will be made by members of the Irish Parliament as well as by De Valera himself. The committee expects that there will be 175,000 persons in Springfield on this day, including delegations from every city and town within a radius of 150 miles.

PROBLEMS OF CITY ARE DISCUSSED

Rev. W. E. Collins Delivers Strong Sermon at Congregational Church—Says Home is Bulwark of Land.

Sunday evening at the Congregational church Rev. W. E. Collins delivered an able discourse on the problems of the city. There are three vital divisions: The Home, The School, The Church.

The bulwark of the land is the home. It should be comfortable, such as will attract and hold the children as well as the father and mother about the rising generation an atmosphere and give them a training that will prepare them for useful careers in life. The first duty of the parents should be at home; make it a place around which will cluster fond recollections and the dearest of earth.

In China the child is under absolute control of the parents. There is no society for young people; they never meet socially; their marriage is absolutely in the hands of the elders. In India exists the caste system which is like a ledge of rock above the heads of the lower strata. Children are married when twelve years of age and the care free joy and happiness of childhood are practically unknown.

In Russia there was a blind adoration of the czar and the father had full control of the child. A Russian father once saw some disrespect on the part of his son. He chastised the boy severely and made him kiss his father's feet and then took him to his arms. The mother had no control whatever over the children. In American homes too much affection is bestowed on children unaccompanied by discipline.

Love and discipline go hand in hand. It is a great mistake to give a child all he wants. He will almost surely grow up weak and worthless. We must get back to old time principles in the family. The authorities should do all possible to improve and elevate the homes of the masses.

Christianity Is Paramount.
Christianity should be raised above and held paramount to all things. In some parts of western Kansas religious services are regularly conducted in school buildings thus education of the mind and soul go hand in hand. Religion should go hand in hand with the public school in all proper ways for if we do not maintain the morality of the children education alone will serve to make them more capable of doing evil if so inclined. The educated rescal is far more dangerous to society than the ignorant thief.

If the parents fail to cooperate with the teachers and all others with whom the children come in contact in order that a perfect character may be formed there will be failure.

Too often the child is heard only and he is taught to disregard or fail to respect his teacher properly and thus the seeds of a great mistake are sown. Our people lack the fundamentals of religion. The country needs more national Puritanism.

Ministers of creditable faiths should be permitted to enter the public schools for half an hour or so and teach religious truths occasionally. Teachers of children should know the truths of religion and should practice them. There should be a dynamic force of religion in every school for nothing but the religion of the Bible will save our land from destruction.

Need Wholesome Recreation.
We need plenty of wholesome recreation. As a nation we are too much in a hurry; the gait is too fast; we don't take enough time to breathe. We have football, base ball and other ways of amusement but they are so commercialized that they resemble business ventures rather than wholesome recreation. The spirit of Christianity should control amusements.

Even in the Sunday school the wise teacher of the wee beginners has the sand pile and crayon and the children are taught to make diagrams of sacred places and thus blend recreation with good teaching.

Religion and recreation should go hand in hand. Japan tried a system of nation-wide education excluding moral teaching and had many schools but the system was breaking down then they sent their bright young men to this and other lands to secure the best

Style Tendencies

For Fall and Winter in

Ladies' Suits

The question of the line along which tailored fashions will develop, which has been agitating fashion designers, is now solved.

Fitted Effects in Tailored Suits

In the jacket and skirt of suits the fitted line predominates. There has been much discussion as to what would be the effect on tailored costumes of the adoption of the stiffened hip. Obviously, if this fullness at the hips—and not only fullness, but stiffening as well—is applied to the skirts of two-piece suits the jackets will have to be cut on radically different lines from those in use during the last few years.

The fitted line, with a much curved underarm seam and shaped pieces at front and back, is already the vogue; but even this will not be sufficient to provide for the exaggerated and stiffened fullness at the hips of the dress skirts, if this idea is applied to suit skirts.

Fabrics Scarce in Many Instances

The market is still short of wool novelties for suitings, and bures, homespun and chevots continue to dominate. Broadcloths are receiving favorable mention, and are used in light weights and in high lustrous finish for dressy costumes.

Striped and plaided effects, notably in polychrome effects, are prominent.

Browns are Good

Browns, shading from tete de negre to the lightest tan, are strong; so also are greens in soft shades of olive and jade.

Colors for sports wear, however, are high, scarlet, Empire green, royal blue, bright yellow and purple being extensively employed.

Our ladies' tailoring department is under the direction of Mark Strassberg, formerly with Field's, Chicago, assisted by a corps of competent dressmakers. We shall be glad to have you call and discuss your suit and dress requirements.

Simplicity Prevails for Fall

Simplicity is the keynote for fall and winter tailormade styles. At the same time, variety and marked individuality of treatment obviate any similarity or sameness.

The coats already exhibited first clearly dominate the straight-line silhouette, sleeves with deep armholes, and large high-rolling collars. A few of the egg-silhouettes and a few with a slight tendency to flare are shown, together with some new and handsome interpretations of the blouse coat. The blouse should be confined to the smaller sizes in which it is more becoming.

New Models Retain Current Features

The suits shown thus far are in line with the style tendencies which will have general adoption for American distribution; that is to say, many of the skirts are ankle length, about seven or eight inches from the floor, and wide enough for comfort. Many of the coats come to within three or four inches of the hem of the skirt and are built on fitted lines. Armholes and shoulders fit snugly, the former and the waist line being at the normal. Sleeves carry out the tailored tight lines of the spring models.

Many of the suit coats are made on straight, loose lines with the waist suggested by a narrow belt tied at the side or front. Slashed sides have rows of buttons as trimming on each side of the openings.

Bright-Colored Buckles

Buckles in bright-colored composition, in cerise, royal blue or jade green are used on fabric belts, and frequently form the one spot of color on an otherwise neutral colored costume.

in them. The people are asking for something better; something to purify the stream and only a wise moral atmosphere and blending of religion with education, home and amusements will result in our upbuilding as a community.

CONDITIONS AT COUNTY FARM

A Reply to the Charges of Miss Annie Hinrichsen.

I will ask Miss Annie Hinrichsen if she wasn't appointed inspector by Governor Dunn; and what her salary is; including hotel bills, auto hire, car fare, etc.; also news articles for democratic papers.

I will also ask her how does her salary and expense account compare with the salary and expense account of the female help hired at the County Farm. I would like to ask Miss Hinrichsen if she doesn't know it to be a fact that one Democrat supervisor and his whole family drew the salaries for a period of 18 years, whom I believe was one of the best superintendents the farm has had. And also if you don't know that under a democratic administration the board allowed $1,500 for inspection of a soldiers' monument which was never built and also if you knew that it had been the habit of democratic supervisors to hold banquets every few weeks, and that on one of these occasions that the county paid for $40.00 worth of flowers to decorate the table alone; and upon another of these occasions that the supervisor was full of booze and got the foreman of the grand jury full and all having plenty of booze and a general good time. Now why didn't you make a report under democratic administration?

If your motives were other than political why did you make these charges during a republican administration and 13 weeks prior to an election. I would also like to ask you if you didn't get your information from the democrat and 2 dissatisfied inmates, one of whom I arrested a few years ago as a bootlegger.

The inmates that are here are happier, healthier, and getting more to eat than the average person.

I would like to ask you what you meant by "luxuries"—whose cost is prohibitive to the average inmate and if you mean we should deny ourselves the things that we have always been used to, and if we should eat in the basement with the inmates. In the articles of luxury enumerated in the papers I find $26.00 worth that was bought by Mr. McFillan. Do you think that you have been fair to me. Silk stockings, I have all the time forbid my children buying articles and charging them to the county. Some of my daughters may or may not have bought these stockings. It is just as likely to be a clerical error as it is a fact that another firm had a bill sworn to and filed for payment which had $187.00 worth on it that was never bought for the County Farm. The shoes I have purchased according to your statement cost from $2.25 to $3.95 per pair. How do these compare with what you wear.

I would like to ask you if you don't know it to be a fact that the democrat supervisor charged $2.00 wearing apparel to the County.

I would like to refer you to the only records I have which was kept in 1907 by a democrat supervisor, and paid out of the County funds.

I would like to ask her if it isn't a fact that she and two other women came to the county farm for inspection and that in my presence we all examined about 50 beds and only found bugs on one bed. The inmates will bear me out that this place has been infested with bed bugs every since they can remember and that this place is freer from them now than at any time prior.

As to the charges of cruelty and inhuman treatment, this is a lie, and I defy you or anyone to prove any such charges.

As regards to the inmates doing the work, I will say that they are doing just the same work as they did prior to my taking possession and that they supervised nothing. And also that the law says that they shall do such work as they are able to do.

I would like to know why you didn't give me credit for the sum of over $3,000 that I have turned in to the treasurer's office. I will also state that I have 70 acres of corn that will average from 40 to 50 bushels per acre and I have 45 acres of wheat sowed for the next year and 145 head of hogs of which 40 of them are on feed.

Can it be a fact that such men as the Courier staff are ignorant of the fact that this institution is not a shack of an affair but is a beautiful building and with beautiful surroundings and with a little more expense could be made a better and more sanitary building than half of the hotels in the country. We do need water and lights. So do some people need brains and a pair of eyes to see the good that lies around them.

The present administration has put more improvements upon this place in six months than has been put here during the past 16 or 20 years.

I will say that this place is open to inspection any day in the year and at all times of the day.

A NOBLE TRIBUTE TO
THEODORE ROOSEVELTEloquent Discourse By Rev. J. F.
Langton of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Last Sunday Rev. J. F. Langton, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, delivered an eloquent address on the life and character of Theodore Roosevelt. The speaker took for his theme, "Christ's Estimate of Greatness." He quoted the question of the disciples as to who would be the greatest in the expected kingdom and the Master's answer by placing a little child in their midst and telling them they must be like him in spirit and humble themselves accordingly. It is a source of regret that the discourse cannot be presented in full. The reverend gentleman said in part:

The disciples were like other men; had the same hopes and fears, rivalries and jealousies, ambitions and selfishness that characterize men today. They looked for a temporal kingdom, which would throw off the galling yoke of Rome and they hoped to be high officials in it. Hard it was for them to realize the truth till after the death of their beloved Master. The world calls great such men as Caesar, Napoleon, Plato, Shakespeare, Voltaire and others. Plato and Shakespeare made great contribution to the world's literature, Caesar, Alexander and Napoleon represent gigantic selfishness and cruel ambition while Voltaire was a destructive cynic. How different these from Christ's ideas of greatness. There are those who largely fulfill the Master's ideas of greatness and today we are asked to speak of one who stood in the front rank of the world's greatest men.

Theodore Roosevelt. To his characteristic as statesman, leader, soldier, explorer, traveler, servant, writer, and literary man, I shall not refer but shall consider him as a man and a Christian gentleman, and try to show how he measurably filled the requirements of the text.

Secretary Lane said of him: The impress he made on the world needs no emphasis. His fame as a statesman can never outrun his fame as a man. The men might differ from him in national policies they would wish that their sons might have within them the spirit, the will, the strength, the manliness, the Americanism of Roosevelt. We may surely expect to see developed a Roosevelt legend that will exalt the physical power, the endurance of the man, the boldness of his spirit, his robust capacity for blunt speech, his cheery comradeship and live interest on all things.

This is the voice of Mr. Roosevelt's high minded political opponents. When he visited St. Paul my employers stretched a rope across the street from the fourth story windows and to it was suspended a huge flag doubled up and rolled with roses. As his carriage came under it it was quickly unfolded and he was deluged with flowers but immense and stupefying as was the surprise he bore it calmly and simply smiled.

As a Christian gentleman, Rev. T. Dowling says of him in part: Millions of men are standing in the shadow of a great sorrow. Never again shall we behold his winning smile or hear his ringing voice in defense of righteousness or a "square deal" as he termed it. He was a Prince in Israel. No man has ever been worshipped by so great a multitude of his countrymen. He was kind. Little children loved him. He was brave too, placing himself in the greatest danger at San Juan Hill and when struck by an assassin's bullet at Milwaukee he said he was not interested whether he was shot or not; he had fought for the good of his country.

He was by ancestry and education an adherent of the Dutch Reformed church; his wife was reared an Episcopalian and when he removed to Oyster Bay he became a vestryman in Christ church parish.

Pays Glowing Tribute. His rector paid him a glowing tribute telling of his hearty friendship, utter absence of all show or style, his love for the children and his delight in entertaining them; how he joined the Sunday school at Christmas receiving his box of candy and orange along with the children, enjoying it and singing their historic carol.

How he told them of his wonderful tour of South America in all things closely identified himself with all local enterprises without any show or ostentation. How he loved his grandchildren, and his church; no matter what company he had, he attended services whether his guests went or not. How anxious he was when Quentin sailed and when the dread cable message came he attended service as usual. There were no dry eyes in the house and it was his last communion.

This the estimate of his pastor who knew him well. Uninfluenced by political bias of friend or enemy he was a power for righteousness. His story is a classic. It will be an inspiration to unnumbered millions in the generations to come. Shall we not say of him that in the beauty and simplicity of his Christian life he followed closely the footsteps of his Divine Master? And to us who loved and followed him, servant, Theodore Roosevelt, has been an example to all the world of the beauty of simplicity and the glory of the Christian life?

THE OBSERVATORY

October 26th, the day we set the clocks back, has been designated as Go-To-Sunday School Sunday in Illinois. That will give a lot of folks who don't go a chance to plead that excuse that the change in time confused them.

Someone with a grouse against the wrist watch points out that bracelets were first placed on insane persons so that they could be distinguished, before the idea of erecting asylums for them originated.

The strike of bituminous coal miners has been called for Oct. 31, but it is hoped they will not prove anthracite in their determination to obey the order.

There is no doubt that the hair net is a great institution, as one Jacksonville husband can testify. The other morning while dressing he found one net fastened in his watch chain, and it took him fifteen minutes to get it disentangled. A few minutes later he started to comb his hair and there was another of the blessed things caught in his comb.

Some men rush into the divorce court on very slight provocation. The case of a Wichita man is a sample. He married a gay and dashing young widow. His age was 19 and she admitted 22. When a substance introduced her 17-year-old son by a former marriage, the groom had his father apply for a divorce.

Jacksonville will soon go ahead on the old time. Once upon a time there was a time when a man could have a time, but that was ANOTHER time.

Instead of Palaver. Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood has had remarkable success handling ticklish situations where the stage has seemed set for a riot. One reason has been his firmness. When he says his men will preserve order, even if they have to shoot to kill to do so, the incipient rioters take it for granted he means what he says. So they usually don't riot.

There are times when palaver gets nowhere and stern determination is the humanitarian weapon.

Boys in Khaki Go Overseas. Ratify the league covenant, the president said in his speeches, so the boys in khaki will never need to go overseas again. But in strict accordance with the spirit of the league boys in khaki are on their way today to do police duty in Silesia. This is the sort of thing that the League of Nations will make fairly routine procedure if the United States lives up to the obligations it will assume if the covenant is ratified.

The significance of the departure of these troops is not so much in the fact that this country is undertaking an immediate burden of doing police duty in remote parts of the world. It is that entering on such a procedure the Nation is involving itself in European politics.

Suppose, for instance, our Silesian police force were to be attacked in an uprising. More troops would have to be sent. There would be possibilities for endless complications.

The big question before America today is this: Are we to devote ourselves to our immediate duties and obligations, or are we to dissipate our energies in attempting to run the affairs of the backward nations of far off districts in Europe and Asia?

C, 145th Illinois Inf., an organization to which a number of this vicinity belonged. Martin V. B. Parker was second lieutenant and George Bibb was captain. Dr. T. J. Pitner, J. T. ## Matrimonial

Richardson-Self.

Sunday evening at six Earl P. Richardson of the west part of the county and Miss Helen I. Self, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer Self, were married at the home of the bride's parents, 234½ North Main street in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

The ceremony was performed in front of a bank of chrysanthemums and ferns and the residence was tastefully decorated with roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George T. Wetzel in a happy manner and the congratulations were many and cordial. The wedding march from Mendelssohn was skillfully performed by Mrs. Annie Curtis. The young people were attended by the bride's brother, Marion Self, and Miss Hilda Fanning.

The bride was tastefully arrayed in a dress of messaline blue satin trimmed with white chiffon and carried bride's roses. After the ceremony a bountiful and sly prepared wedding supper was enjoyed.

The groom is a son of Charles Richardson a member of the Richardson families west of the city. He has been for eighteen months in the medical corps of the U. S. army abroad and is a young man of fine character and attainments.

The bride is a graduate of the Jacksonville high school and has spent practically all her life in the city and is a young lady of charming qualities and much culture.

The newly wedded pair left on the evening train for Indianapolis and other places.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Boston, just home from California, and Miss Tillie A. Clausen of New Haven, Iowa.

for Miss Fowler.
On Friday evening, Oct. 17th, eighty of the deaf residents and their friends gathered at the home of Miss Ora Gibson, 302 Woodland Place, where a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Minnie Fowler, of Murrayville, who is soon to become the bride of Mr. Robert Bowman of this city.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the guest of honor.
Refreshments were served during the evening and at a late hour the company dispersed, having thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

Pupils of Science Hill

School Had Welner Roast.
Miss Laura Conlee, teacher of Science Hill school, near Pisgah, gave her pupils a welner roast at her home on Saturday afternoon.
Miss Conlee arranged to meet her pupils at the school house and shortly after the noon hour they gathered and were taken to the Conlee home on a rack wagon. A short distance from the house, on a pleasant spot on the hill they found a fire where they enjoyed roasting and eating a goodly quantity of welners, after which they toasted marshmallows and were treated to refreshments. The remainder of the afternoon was spent with games. Miss Conlee has an enrollment of forty-nine, several having moved from the District, they were unable to attend. All had a very enjoyable time, except that all were saddened by the fact that one from their midst, little Everett Wood, aged 7, had on Friday evening accidentally shot himself through the eye, and is now in Passavant Hospital. In the evening Miss Conlee took her pupils back to the schoolhouse and there teacher and pupils departed for their homes, sincerely wishing little Everett a speedy recovery.

SCOTT COUNTY GIRL IS OCTOBER BRIDE

Miss Bess Doyle Became Bride of James G. Cooney of Chicago
Monday Morning at Pretty Church Wedding—Hazelrigg
Funeral Held Monday—Other
News Notes.

Catholic church, uniting Miss Bess
Doyle, second daughter of Mr.

While the guests were assembling, Miss Hazel Doyle, sister of the

As the bridal party entered the church and proceeded to the altar the bridal chorus from Lohen-voices. The ushers were James Doyle, brother of the bride, and Dana O'Donnell. The maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Doyle, was attired in pink georgette crepe with pink picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Next came the bride, accompanied by her father, James Doyle, and gowning in white net over white silk. She wore a sweeping veil of tulle and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The groom and the best man, William Curran, met the other members of the party at the altar, where Father Cahill of Jacksonville performed the ceremony.

During the service Miss Lillie Collins sang Ave Maria and Miss
Susie O'Donnell sang Cavalleri Rusticana with violin obligato by Harry O'Donnell, Miss Nan O'Donnell at the organ.

After the ceremony at the church about sixty relatives and friends proceeded to the home of the bride's parents, where a three course breakfast was served.

neer who has made a gratifying success of his chosen career. Sev-while here that he met his future bride. He now holds a responsible position in Oklahoma City, Okla.

night for Chicago and from there will proceed to their new home, where they will begin housekeeping with the best wishes of their many friends.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr.
Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.
The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel.
They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums.
So do strong liquids. It is just not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "pick up" the spirits. 5c and 25c.

MAY VOTE ON PUBLIC POLICY QUESTIONS

County Clerk Riggs Receives Message from Attorney General Regarding Right of Women to Vote.

County Clerk George L. Riggs received a message from Attorney General Brundage Monday to the effect that women may vote on all questions of public policy at the coming election.

The questions of public policy have not as yet been certified to the county clerks. There has been an effort thru court procedure to prevent the placing of several questions of public policy upon the ballot at the coming election.
However, it is known that one of the questions is public ownership of utilities.

MEN MENTIONED FOR TWO PARTY PLUMS

All Decisions Hinge on Move
By Lowden.

Altho the present year is an off one in Illinois politics, with November election interest limited to the contest for constitutional convention delegates, followers of the game are becoming restless. A general desire to "start something" is apparent, especially among the smaller try politicians. It is expected that immediately after the personnel of the constitutional convention is settled next month, some of the ardent lieutenants of various potential candidates will trot out their favorites, so that any of the proclatant desiring to acclaim themselves as admirers and supporters of the same shall not be denied that opportunity. One thing only has prevented the launching of several Republican "booms"—gubernatorial and senatorial—before this time. That is the part Governor Lowden is to play in politics next year. Governor Lowden is a more than likely nominee for president. This fact is generally recognized throughout the country. So strong are the potentialities of the Lowden candidacy that no political story is written anywhere in the country these days dealing with the Republican nomination next year without mention of Governor Lowden as a likely recipient of that honor.

Notwithstanding the general recognition on the availability of Governor Lowden as a presidential candidate, no one knows for certain that he will be. Up to this time he has carefully avoided committing himself on the subject. His friends are enthusiastically averring his consideration by the voters of the country, and with flattering success, but even the extraordinary warmth of the reception his name has met with has not moved him to take cognizance of what is happening. So far as anyone can say from his personal attitude and expressions, he does not even know that his name has been proposed for the honor.

Others Wait On Governor. So long as this uncertainty exists with regard to Governor Lowden, it is not likely that any aspirations for the Illinois governorship will be publicly announced. Other candidates depend upon his course. It is universally conceded that if he chooses to run for governor again, he may have his party nomination without opposition. His record in the governor's office is such that no other Republican in the state would have the temerity to oppose him.

There is no certainty, however, that Governor Lowden would accept the governorship for another four years. He has been as non-committal on this point as he has been on the matter of seeking the presidency. In the absence of any intimation on the subject, the general assumption is that if he does not become an active candidate for the presidential nomination he will accept another term for the governorship. It is believed by many that if he does not become an avowed candidate for president, he will be forced to stand for reelection, whether he desires further political honors or not.

All of these contingencies, however, hinges on the improbable. There seems to be no doubt that within the next few months Lowden will become so pronounced throughout the country that the governor will be compelled to formally acquiesce in the movement inaugurated by his friends to present his name for the consideration of his party.

Whether the bars will be down and the field opened for all persons harboring the gubernatorial ambitions when the governor becomes an acknowledged candidate for president—if he does—is still problematical. The party's national standard bearer will be selected next June in the Republican national convention. The candidate for governor will not be named until the state-wide primary election next September. It is possible that with Governor Lowden a prospective presidential nominee, activities in the matter of a state executive will be suspended until the presidential prize is settled.

Many Names Mentioned
If, however, Governor Lowden from any cause—either because he is to submit his name to his party's national convention for the greater honor, or upon his declaration that he will not be a candidate for governor again—makes it known that he is not to be reckoned with as a factor in the state primaries, there will be the liveliest sort of skirmishing for position among party leaders whose ambitions extend governorward. A half dozen names already are being associated with the office—all with the reservation, of course, that Governor Lowden is not a candidate for reelection.

Those whose names are regularly mentioned in discussions of the governorship are Lieutenant Governor Oglesby, State Auditor Russell, former State Treasurer Sterling, Congressman Richard Yates and Congressman Frank L. Smith. All of these are known to be willing to make the race with proper encouragement. The respective friends and supporters of each will endeavor to see to it that the necessary encouragement is forthcoming.

While it is not possible to definitely establish factional lines between the candidates are known, it is generally recognized that the primary contest will be waged between what are known as the state crowd and the federal organization in Illinois politics. With the state crowd in all probability will be aligned the supporters of all the present elective state officers—including Governor Lowden—except Attorney General Brundage. The attorney general's fortunes doubtless will be arrayed with the federal crowd, under the joint leadership of Mr. Brundage, United States Senator Medill McCormick and Congressman Smith.

Smith Enters Field.
Word already has come out from Washington that Congressman Smith expects to be a candidate for governor. This means, of course, if Governor Lowden clears the field by declaring himself out of the going. If Smith gets his wish and again runs for governor, unless present alignments are shattered, it will be with the active support of Brundage, McCormick and most of the congressmen from this state. Under these conditions his chances for success would depend largely upon the remainder of the field.

If Oglesby, Russell, Small and Sterling should all four decide to seek the nomination, a contest among these four and Smith would result in a walkaway for Smith. It is not at all probable, however, that all four will start. Indeed, it is not unlikely that only one of them will enter the contest. If these four party leaders and the interests associated with them should unite behind any one of the quartet and a two-man race between that candidate and Smith result, Smith's opponent would have a walkaway. Such a situation, however, is not at all assured.

While indications at the present time are that both the state crowd and the federal men will have a candidate in the race for governor should Governor Lowden step aside, other elements are to be reckoned with. Governor Deneen still maintains a thoroughly active political organization in Cook county, likewise Mayor Thompson of that city, national committeeman from Illinois and a thorn in the side of both the Deneen and Brundage machines in the big city.

ex-Governor Deneen or Mayor Thompson, or both should decide to project themselves as one of their adherents into the contest such a step might change the situation completely. Then there is Congressman-at-Large Yates to be considered. Congressman Yates has been governor once and admits he liked it well enough to run again. And there are still remnants of the old Yates organization scattered over the state, ready to rally to his war cry. Undoubtedly, the injection of the Yates candidacy would work more disaster to the state crowd than to the federal crowd.

Hope to Win McKinley.
The federal organization, built around the nucleus formed by the Republican state committee and attaches of Attorney General Brundage's office, has a more pretentious program for domination and control of Illinois politics than has been indicated by the state crowd. The latter apparently would be contented to retain the governorship and leave the other elective state officials in their present berths, including Attorney General Brundage. The federal organization, however, has included the other United States senatorship in its plans of conquest. Congressman William F. McKinley of Champaign, is the candidate of the federal organization for the senatorial top to be laid aside by Senator L. J. Sherman. In turn, McKinley is expected to deliver material support to Frank Smith's candidacy for governor.

Col. B. M. Chipfield of Canton also has declared his intention of making the race for United States senator. Whether it will be as the candidate of the state crowd has not yet been determined. It is known, tho, that Colonel Chipfield intends to make the liveliest sort of a campaign for the office and as a spellbinder, he is at the top of the class.

Activity in Democratic ranks thus far has been confined to speculation, with no avowed candidates in the field. It looks like Frank S. Peabody, the Chicago coal magnate, might be the party's candidate for United States senator.

On Thursday of this week a meeting of officers and the executive committee of the Illinois Lowden campaign committee will be held in Chicago for the purpose of perfecting the home organization that will conduct the Lowden campaign for presidency. Party leaders in every county in the state will be called upon to do their part toward seeing that the name and qualifications of Governor Lowden are presented to the voters of the country for their consideration. — Springfield State Journal.

How Much Profit Do You Pay Us?

The United States Department of Agriculture informs us that you as an average American Citizen, eat about one hundred and eighty-two pounds of meat (181.83 lbs.) in a year.

Based on these figures, if you had purchased all of your meat foods from us, Swift & Company would have profited to the extent of 48½ cents during the first eight months of our present fiscal year.

In that eight months we averaged to make two-fifths of a cent on each pound of meat and all other products sold.

This profit you paid us equals 6 cents a month—or just about one street car fare.

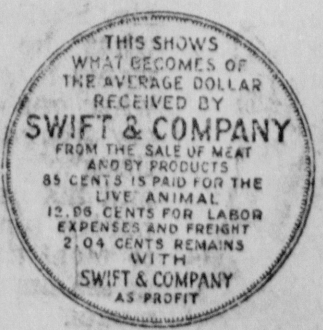

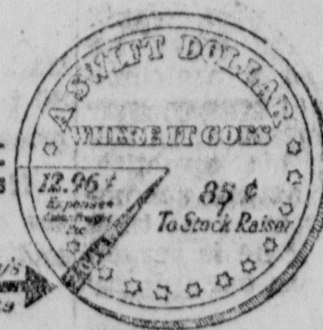

More than 30,000 shareholders looking to us as trustees of their invested money, had to be paid a reasonable return out of your 6 cents a month. Volume alone made this possible.

Now figure for yourself how Government interference in the operations of the packing business is going to reduce your meat bill!

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent

Make This Free Test

For the Sake of Whiter, Safer Teeth

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

The dealers named below have been supplied with 10-Day Tubes of Pepsodent. This week a tube will be handed free to anyone who asks. Simply present the coupon. The purpose is to urge a test of this film-removing tooth paste, which leading dentists nowadays advise. Prove the results for your own sake and your children's sake. Learn what they mean to your teeth.

See How Your Teeth Look When the Film is Gone

There is on your teeth a slimy film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to the teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice does not dissolve it. So it clings and, night and day, it may do ceaseless damage.

The Tooth Wrecker

That film is the great tooth wrecker. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

The film is what discolours—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of many other troubles, local and internal.

That is why well-brushed teeth so often discolour and decay, why tartar forms and pyorrhea starts. You leave much of that film.

Tooth troubles are constantly increasing, as statistics show, despite the wide use of the tooth brush. And the reason lies in that film.

Now We Combat It

Dental science, after years of searching, has now found a way to combat film. High authorities have proved it by convincing clinical and laboratory tests. Thousands of dentists have proved it, and at least a million people.

The results are seen everywhere in clean whiter teeth. Some of your own friends have them.

For home use, this method is embodied in dentifrice called Pepsodent. And this week you can test it at our cost.

Based on Pepsin

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. But dental science has discovered a harmless activating method. And that method used in Pepsodent, enables all to daily efficient film combatant.

Watch the Results

We urge you to present the coupon. Get 10-Day Tube and use like any tooth paste. No how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten—how they glisten—as the fixed film disappears.

Compare the results with your old method. Then let your own teeth decide the method be for you and yours.

This is of lifetime importance. Don't neglect it. Cut out this coupon so you won't forget.

When one feels thick or aches, when one feels all out-of-sorts—perhaps a coated tongue—it is the signal that poisons are accumulating in the system, and should be cleaned out at once.

Auto-intoxication can be best described to our own neglect or carelessness. When the organs fail in the discharge of their duties the putrefactive germs set in and generate toxins—actual poisons which fill one's own body.

Sleepiness after meals, flushing of the face, extreme lassitude, biliousness, dizziness, sick headache, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, offensive breath, anemia, loss of weight and muscular power, decrease of vitality or lowering of resistance to infectious diseases, disturbance of the eye, dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, many forms of catarrh, asthma, ear affection, and allied ailments result from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning.

Take castor oil, or procure a vegetable laxative, called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap.

HEAVY SELLING LOWERS CORN

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Corn prices declined today under selling which was based largely on the fact that there had been a bulge of more than 6c within a week. Closing quotations were heavy 1/2c to 1 1/4c net lower with December $1.25 1/4 @ $1.25 1/2 and May $1.23 1/4 @ $1.23 1/2. Oats lost 1/4c to 1/2c. In provisions the finish varied from 1.05 off to an advance of $2.75. It was an overbought market in corn and when bears noted a lack of support they immediately pressed their advantage. Lightness of offerings was responsible for a moderate upturn which took place at the opening. Weakness of hog values too tended to discourage buyers of corn. In addition many traders expressed doubt that farmers were in general adopting a holding policy. Once on the downgrade, the market acquired momentum, and finished at about bottom figures of the day.

Oats were steadier than corn owing to advices that despite the longshoremen's strike some export demand continued.

October delivery of pork was bid up to an unusual extent in an effort to fill an order. Otherwise provisions had no strength and gave way with hogs and corn.

STOCKS JUMP TO HIGHER LEVELS

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—On the largest, if not the most diversified operations thus far this fall the stock market today mounted almost steadily to higher levels, miscellaneous shares once more featuring the movement.

Events over the week end and those which came to hand in the course of the session were almost altogether helpful to the bull or constructive account, especially industrial and monetary developments. The labor situation assumed a more definite phase as the result of news regarding the industrial conference at Washington and reports of increased production from leading centers of the steel and iron industry.

Automobile shares with their many adjuncts overshadowed the trading from the outset. General Motors leading at a 25 point gain to the new maximum of 330 1/2. Studebaker, Pierce Arrow, White, Maxwell, Stromberg Carborator and the various rubber tire issues rose 4 to 10 points.

Steel and steel equipments, also electric issues were featured by Pressed Steel Car, Gulf Steel, New York Airbrake, General Electric and Westinghouse Electric at gross gains of 3 to 10 points.

Domestic bonds, including Liberty issues, were steady.

Total sales (par value) aggregated $15,750,000. Old U. S. coupon 4s rose 1/4 on sales, others unchanged on call.

PUT HIM BACK ON HIS ENGINE

That is What Tanlac Did for Popular C. B. & Q. R. R. Engineers—Gains 32 Pounds.

"I have undergone such a change," said Captain P. M. Wilson of 140 East Brooks street, Galesburg, Ill., recently, "since I began taking this Tanlac that my friends hardly know me on first sight." Captain Wilson, an engineer on the C. B. & Q. Railroad for the past twelve years and is one of the most efficient and popular men in the service of his road.

"I had been in a bad state of health for more than eight years," he continued, "and finally got to the place where I couldn't get out on my runs at all. At times I was almost desperate with pain through my stomach, right side and back. Many a time I sat in the cab of my engine all doubled over with misery, thinking the next station I pulled into I would be compelled to give up. They said this pain was caused by gallstones and that an operation was the only thing that would save me. I don't know what the trouble was, but I was in so much pain that I couldn't sleep much, and even in my dozing at night I could see the operating table staring me in the face. I became very nervous, got to suffering from indigestion and all these things together simply made a physical wreck of me. I stuck to the old engine just as long as I could, but at last I had to give up. I had decided to undergo the operation when a good friend advised me to try Tanlac, saying it was the best railroad man's medicine in the world. Well, when he left me I had made up my mind to try Tanlac as a last resort before going to a hospital. So I had them get me a bottle and before I had finished taking it
